The feelThere LE Phenom 100 is a fairly impressive little jet with awesome ramp presence and a modern good looking interior and cockpit spaces. It has been simplified as a simulator model, but, maybe no more so than the real world model is simplified. It has many big boy features such as VNAV and a FMS although both are very limited.

Phenom 100 - Aircraft - The AVSIM Community

The default setting for the navigation radios is by FMS autotune. Based on the needs of the initial reference unit (IRU) and route flow the FMS will select radio frequencies. Autotune will tune an ILS frequency if entered into the flightplan.
